

Look in the Glass

(Words: William Shakespeare s.3)

for Soprano, Recorder & Piano

Soprano

Michel Rondeau

Feb.25th, 2008

Andante ♩. = 55

3

Look in thy glass___ and___ tell the face that view - est___

7

Now is the time___ that face___ should form a - no - ther;

11

Whose fresh re - pair___ if___ now thou not re-new - est,___

15

Thou dost be - guile___ the world,___ un-bless some mo - ther,

19

For where is she so fair whose un-ear'd womb Dis-dains the til-lage of thy hus - ban-dry? Or who is she so fond___ will be the tomb Of his self -

23

27

4

love, to stop pos - te - ri-ty? Thou art thy mo - ther's___

34

glass and she in thee___ Calls back the lo - vely

38

A - pril of her prime; — So thou through win - dows of thine — age shall see,

42

— Des-pite of wrin - kles this — thy gol-den time. —

47

But if thou live, re-mem-ber'd not to be, Die sin - gle

51

and thine im-age — dies with thee. Look in thy glass — and —

58

tell the face that view - est — Look in thy glass — and —

62

Slower

tell the face that view - est — Now is the time — that 66

face — should form a - no - - - ther;
rit.